

SKSR General Membership Scholarship Brunch.

November 15, 2018

At 9:30 President Jim Siscel welcomed everyone to the Brunch.

He introduced the NW-1 Rep, Kay Bishop. He then asked for help in cleaning up after the function. Because of the manual work involved here at the Church we need to look for a different location. He asked to be notified if someone knew of a facility we could use in place of the church.

Donna Murrish introduced our speakers, Emma Parker and Shelia Lashua. They both work at the Alderwood Travel and Cruise Agency run by AAA. They spoke about different tips to keep in mind while traveling.

Vice President Roberta Hawkins introduced Karen McElliott, Grants Chair. Karen spoke to the need for presenters of the awarded grants. This job entails contacting the school, usually the principal, to arrange for a formal presentation of the grant(check). She had a sheet available if anyone was interested.

Roberta talked about the Service Project, WA Kids in Transition. We will be stuffing bags with food. It will happen January 5 from 10 - 12. She had a sign-up sheet as well. She then talked about the February 7 General Membership meeting. There will be a speaker from Humanities Washington, Felix Benel. He will talk about the different unusual weather situations that Washington State has experienced.

Linda Fitzgerald talked about the March field trip. It will happen the morning of March 28. We will be visiting the University of Washington crew house. This is where the shell used by "The Boys in the Boat" is housed. There is a limit of 50 attendees. So, she cautioned that an early sign-up might be in order.

There were drawings for a variety of items including wine and chocolate as well as the table centerpieces.

At this point the Brunch was over and help was requested putting away the tables.

Respectfully submitted,

Jan Phillips, Secretary
